

Language Policy for Dow Jones Sustainability Indices (DJSI) & RobecoSAM's Corporate Sustainability Assessment (CSA)

The official language for the DJSI and RobecoSAM CSA is English. Companies are requested to provide supporting documentation in English whenever possible. While we base our assessments on English language documentation, we recognize that some supporting documentation may not exist in English, and companies are allowed to provide these documents. However, when providing documents in languages other than English, companies should facilitate either a brief translation in English of the relevant passage(s) in the comment field or attach a second document containing the translation.
